

Advisory – getting it right from the start

Advisory tops the pyramid formed by all of Auris Relocation’s service categories.

Auris Relocation has the capacity to advise and counsel on all aspects of global mobility. Our advisory service provides strong added value both before and after setting up business in Switzerland.

By inviting Auris Relocation to participate prior to a move, relocation strategies can be adjusted appropriately within the Swiss context that we know so well. Existing human-resource strategies and policies also profit from the valuable perspective Auris brings to the table.

Auris Relocation provides this service to top management, departments of Human Resources and Talent Management. This is advantageous for small and large corporations already located in Switzerland or planning to move to Switzerland. Auris clients benefit from our intimate knowledge of the Swiss context, our multiple key contacts, and our valuable experience in corporate moves.

Confident

Auris Relocation answers your questions, and prompts the questions not asked. What are the things to think about, what can be expected in timing, what are the potential risks? Decisions are made with full confidence once all bases are covered.

Successful

Auris Relocation Advisory goes beyond tax information and hard figures, to include “soft” factors such as: how will employees fit into the region? will they adapt? will they stay long term? Addressing these additional elements often determines the overall success of the operation.

Neutral

Auris Relocation has the added value of being present throughout Switzerland, given its multiple locations. We are not linked to one specific region, and can be truly neutral when asked about the pros and cons of potential future locations.
